

Nikhil Sharma for Vice President of Warwick Snow 24/25

In the hallowed halls of Rootes F block/7 George Street, where the pursuit of skiing excellence intertwines with the art of inebriation, I, Nikhil Sharma aka Frik aka Piss Glove, present my candidature for the exalted position of Vice President of the illustrious Warwick Snow. This essay, a libation to wit and satire, shall elucidate my qualifications, aspirations, liver resilience and most fittingly, my skiing inaptitude.

It is often argued that the role of the Vice President is laborious, distressing and tiresome. However, with the assistive kick of Gin Tinnies, Hinge and a Ciggy or two, I deem myself to be more than capable of filling the shoes of our past heroes¹. My previous experience can attest, for instance, my work with establishments such as Toolbox, Warwick Bass Society (Technical Director²) and The Old Library³, to name a few. With an ever-expanding network of tote-bag wearers, IPA drinkers and Joy O listeners - you can count on me as a paragon of approachability.

More than ever before, cups will be touched in Terrace Bar, Jubl will be guzzled in Apres, and pubic hair will be waxed in Charity Circle. Need I mention the magnum opus of Warwick Snow: The Snow Ball - for which my ideas are cosmic, boundless and compelling, see below:

1. 1920s Jazz Bar — a glass of red and cheese-cracker canapé on entry, accompanied by a live Jazz Band
2. 1970s Disco - equipped with a sparkling dance floor, disco ball and tunes to get you loose
3. Geordie Shore - lose yourself in the odyssey of sex, alcohol and superficial beef - let's get tacky!!
4. Toolbox Pres Theme

On account of my magnitudinous adoration, undying commitment and blazing dedication to Warwick Snow; no title nor label, hell even 'Vice President', can encapsulate the erotic infatuation I have with this society. Conclusively, vote for Nik.

Here's to us,
Nikhil Sharma
